Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd.

So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandyCanesForLife.com

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd.

So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandyCanesForLife.com

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd.

So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandvCanesForLife.com

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd.

So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandyCanesForLife.com

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd.

So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandvCanesForLife.com

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd. So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandyCanesForLife.com

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd.

So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandvCanesForLife.com

Many years ago a candy maker wanted to make a candy that would represent the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus, and God's gift of salvation.

He made the candy hard because Jesus is our Rock. He made it white to symbolize the pureness and justice of Christ. He painted it with red stripes because Jesus shed his blood as payment for our sins, so that we could be forgiven. He made it in the form of a J for Jesus' name and when it's turned upside down it looks like a shepherd's staff because God is our Good Shepherd.

So the Next time you see a candy cane, remember the true meaning of Christmas - Jesus who brought us God's gift of salvation.

John 3:16 www.CandyCanesForLife.com